

Video Production

Video for Web & Marketing

We deliver: Corporate Videos, Podcasts, Web based advertising banners, e-Learning and sharing video presentations online through screencasts. We work with our clients to produce professional videos that can be distributed online either publicly or to reside on private corporate networks (Intranets).

Video Podcast & Screencasts

As we all consider the importance of being more environmentally friendly, not everyone can attend business summits or presentations. WebEx and Web conferencing are ideal but they are real-time, i.e.: once the conference is over, it's over! With our Screencast service we can post deliver the content via the web, a video of the presenter and the presentation materials offered for immediate download to your computer, iPod or mobile phone.
